BULLS' HARD WORK BOOSTING PRICES

Upward Movement of the Stock Market Yesterday Was Very Laborious.

NEW STOCK ISSUES AT LOW EBB

The Principal Strength was Shown by St. Paul and the Harriman Securities-Banks Continue to Add to Their Surplus-The Total Sales and Closing Quotations.

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Jan. 15-Stocks wer lifted to a higher level today in ; laborious manner than fo several days past but the later re action was more moderate and lef something of the day's gain. Con ditions were not much change from those for some time past.

The feeling towards extensive new stock issues was shown in the pressure to sell Chicago and North wtestern, which caused an acute depression in that stock. The rally in the stock after the official ar nouncement of the proposed stock issue was due rather to the moderate amount of new capital than to any change in the prevailing opinion towards the tendency to dilute capital of railroads. The stock sold at the lowest late in the day.

The general condition of the enormons capital requirements of the railroads was stimulated by the publisted reports of the letter of President Hill, of the Greath Northern to the Governor of Minnesota, containing the assertion that the railroads of the country would need $1,100,000,000 a year for five years to come to supply facilities that would meet the demands made upon them by the present traffic.

The principal strength was snown by St. Paul and the Harriman stocks. The downward course of interest rates continued in this market and there was a decline also in the discount rate in London today. Reports from some of the interior money markets were of an easier tendency, there as well as here. The gain of the banks on subtreasury operations reached over $6,000,000 since the last bank statement. The general liquidation in Chicago and the Northwest was the principal factor in the late reaction. Bonds were heavy; total sales par value $1,614-U. S. Bonds unchanged on call. Total sales stocks 588,600 shares including: Copper 75,200; shares including: Copper 75,200; Tobacco 100; Atchison 41,700; A. C. L. 4$$; Chicago Northwestern 1,400 St. Paul 34, 100; Reading 96, 600;

On the afternoon of Feb. S, 1794, the hounds of his grace the Duke of Beau-fort were in full cry. The run had been a long one, and they knew that the fox was almost spent. Suddenly the scent turned abruptly from the open, leading straight into the garden of a cottage in the little village of Castle Coombe. Those who were following wondered what had happened and were more astonished still to see the entire pack without checking for an instant, dash through the open door into the little room. A shrill scream was heard, and when the whipper in threw himself from his horse and gained the threshold he saw a sight which probably no fox hunter has ever met before or since. A white faced woman stood clasping a child in her arms, and right there in the cradle, from which the in-faut had just been snatched, eighteen couple of fierce hounds were struggling to devour their fox

HOME ENDORSEMENT

Hundreds of Newport News Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public pression of Newport News people should be evidence beyond dispute for every Newport News reader. the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in far-away places. Read the following:

Mrs. J. J. Cole, wife of J. J. Cole, watchman at pier No. 4, residing at 311 Twenty-seventh street, says: "Mr. Cole complained of his back at inter-Cole complained of his back at intervals. The dull aching across his loins never kept him from work, but it annoyed him from its very persistency and often rendered him miserable. He noticed Doan's Kidney Pills very highly recommended for such allments an was induced to get a box. He must have derived considerable benefit from the remedy for I have heard him speak very highly of the preparation on more than one occasion.

PRETTY STRONG UTTERANCES, BUT-

Politicians Who are Against Him Fear to Openly Express Opinion as They Think it Might Be Political Suicide.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15.— A member of the Virginia delegation in Congress made this remark

"The man who opposes the nomination of Bryan in Virginia will be mashed as flat as a pan-cake, with just about enough life left in him to let him give one good yell when th wagon hits him if he opposes the nomination of a certain man for the governorship in 1909."

The representative named the man whom he thought would certainly be nominated by the Virginia Democrats year after next. It was a very graphic way of expressing an opinion as to the sentiment of Democrats of Virginia towards Mr Bryan, as well as towards the various men men tioned for the governorship.

There is not the slightest doubt that the vast majority of Virginians who come to Washington these days want Mr. Bryan nominated next year. Some of the members of Congress, who have advanced beyond the political stage and desire to be called "statesmen," express some doubt and discuss government ownership when asked to talk about Mr. Bryan and the next national convention. But the average man, the one who votes and makes little noise about, is for Bryan, and with whoop, if given half a chance, This is a simple statement of a fact and is written with no desire to "boom" Mr. Bryan at the expense of anybody else.

And it is a fact also worthy of notice that while a considerable number of Democrats in Congress express privately the opinion that Mr. Bryan should not be nominated because of his government ownership views and an alleged tendency towards nationalization and centrali zation of power at Washington at the expense of the States, few will say as much publicly.

"Don't quote me, but"-

That is the favorite method of beginning a declaration expressive of doubt as to the wisdom of mak Mr. Bryan the candidate in 1908.

But there is never a doubt expressed, or rarely, by men who come to Washington and are mer in hotel lobies, or capitol corridors. The overwhelming majority are for Bryan, government owener ship, and doubts as to his attl tude towards the doctrine of States' rights and all. This fact is as apparent as any other to the mai who makes any pretense of read inb public sentiment.

Smoking a Pipe.

The Canadian Cigar and Tobacco
Journal gives some hints to those who smoke pipes. Everybody thinks he knows how to smoke a pipe, but to do it perfectly is not easy. "Time is a keynote of successful pipe smoking," says the Journal, "and another is gentleness. Take it easy. Don't crowd the pipe to the top of the bowl. Never get a pipe hot. Keep cool, and keep your pipe cool. You can relight a pipe, be all the better for it. When you old Philadelphia inns on Second and have finished do not refill a heated Third streets."

Washington Monument.

The towering Washington monu-ment, solid as it is, cannot resist the heat of the sen poured on its southern side on a midsummer's day without slight bending of the gigantic shaft which is rendered perceptible by means of a copper wire 174 feet long langing in the center of the structure and carrying a plummet suspended in a vessel of water.

Animal Voices.
A cow will moo about an octave; s dog will bark a fourth or fifth of an octave; a horse's neigh is a descent on the chromatic scale, while the donkey will bray in octaves. No donkey has ever yet given evidence of proficiency in the study of voice production.

Prominent noses seem to have been the property of many great men. Ly-curgus and Solon had noses six inches in length, and Ovid was surnamed Naso on account of his large nose. Scholo Nasica derived his name from Schio Nasica derived his halfe from his prominent offactory organ, and Alexander the Great and Cardinals Wolsey and Richellen all had large noses. On the medals of Cyrus and Artaxerxes their noses came clear out to the rim of the coin. Washington's to the rim of the coin. Washington's was the true aquiline type, indicative of firmness and patience, as was the nose of Julius Caesar. Mohammed had a singular nose. It was so curved that a writer has told us that the point of it seemed continually striving to juster itself between his lips. It is noses of Franklin, Shatespeare a. . Dr. Johnson all had wide nostrils, betokening strength and love of thought. The nose of Napoleon was exquisitely though firmly chiseled. He often said, "Give me a man with plenty of nose!" Fred crick the Great had so large a nose; breat-that Lavater offered to wager that blindfolded he could tell it among 19,000 by merely taking it between his thumb and forefinger.

The Fly That Buzzed For Mendelssoh The following story is told of the music of the overture to "A Midsum mer Night's Dream:" While Mendels sohn was deep in the making of this same fine overture he went riding one day with a friend. In order, after awhile, to rest their horses the two boon companions dismounted and stretched themselves out under the shade of a great tree. Suddenly there came an excited "Hush!" from the great composer, who half arose very cautiously. A large fly was buzzing over them, and Mendelssohn was nux lous to catch the true sound of the to sect's hum as it gradually drifted far ther away. Many days later when the overture had been completed the artist called his friend's attention to that passage in progression where the vio-loncello modulates in the chord of the loncero modulates in the chord of the seventh of the descending scale from B minor to F sharp minor. "There, that's the fly that buzzed past us at Schonhausen," said Mendelssohn.
